PROF. WILLIAM CLARK

Harvey Brooks Professor of International Science, Public Policy and Human Development at Harvard University's John F. Kennedy School of Government. Trained as an ecologist, his research focuses on sustainability science: understanding the interactions of human and environmental systems with a view toward advancing the goals of sustainable development. He is particularly interested in how institutional arrangements affect the linkage between knowledge and action in the sustainability arena.

Hosted by:

Prof. Miranda Schreurs, Chair of Environment and Climate Policy
Prof. Henrik Selin (Boston University), Hans Fischer Senior Fellow
Prof. Noelle Eckley Selin (MIT), Hans Fischer Senior Fellow
